DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

These services are for men, women, children, and gender-nonconforming individuals who have experienced domestic violence. All services are free and confidential.

CRISIS SHELTER

We provide emergency shelter and basic needs for families or individuals. We also help those escaping domestic violence develop personal safety plans, identify their needs, and connect to community resources to move them from crisis to stability. There are a variety of additional supports available, including assistance with housing, finances, children's needs, and more.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

Personal support for those experiencing domestic violence in our six-county service area provides connections to resources, safety planning, help with protective orders, and relationship education.

STEPS TO SUCCESS

Community-based support is available to survivors to help them move forward after domestic violence. Support is offered with goal setting and becoming economically, emotionally, and physically healthy.

ADDICTION RECOVERY

HOPE & HARRIET

This residential treatment program for women 18 years and older specializes in the pursuit of recovery from chemical dependency. Pathways for individual women and women with children are available in this program.

Certified by the Indiana Department of Mental Health and Addiction, the Indiana Association of Recovery Residences and the Commission for Accreditation of Residential Facilities (CARF), Hope & Harriet provides high-level support and structured services. A judgment-free facility, combined with caring staff members who understand the road to recovery isn't an easy one, offers opportunities for hope and healing.

Using an individualized approach, each resident is provided a team of addiction professionals to partner with during her journey to recovery.

DRESS FOR SUCCESS

This program offers professional attire and career development services for economically disadvantaged women. Women are dressed for job interviews, employment, and court appearances. The program also offers support with resumes, cover letters, job searching, budgeting, and developing interview skills.
